Musée de l'Orangerie

Located in the heart of Paris, and built as a greenhouse in 1852 to shelter the orange trees decorating the Tuileries Palace garden during the winter, the Musée de l'Orangerie is built on the garden's terrace bordering the River Seine. Since 1922, it is home to the masterpieces gifted to France by Claude Monet himself.

In addition to Monet's Water Lilies, there are also works by great masters such as Cézanne, Renoir, Picasso, Rousseau and Matisse.
